SUPERPOWER TO SUCCESS

Leading People, Teams, and Yourself in Today's Landscape

THE BIG IDEA

Every leader aspires to lead deeply engaged and highly productive people and teams and to optimize the performance of the people and teams they are entrusted to lead. But how can you most effectively lead and motivate others without understanding the strategies employed by the most successful leaders?

After interviewing more than 500 of America's top leaders – from Fortune 500 CEOs to founders of household name companies to four-star generals and admirals – what was once only understood by a select few has now been codified. The solution lies not in focusing on your skills, but in harnessing your "superpower." But what is a leadership superpower? And how do you discover and activate it?

"Adam brought incredible value to our event. His practical insights into leadership and strategy sparked meaningful discussions and reflection and his approachable and engaging style made his sessions enjoyable and impactful for everyone involved."

Event Coordinator, Future Forum

ATTENDEES WILL LEARN:

- 1 A three-step process to understand and unlock your leadership superpower
- 2 The most misunderstood but integral principles essential to leading in today's landscape
- 3 The secret to recruiting, managing, motivating, and keeping the people you need in historically challenging and uncertain market conditions

After this presentation, attendees will be better equipped to lead others – and themselves – to new levels of greatness.
